Living LIFE

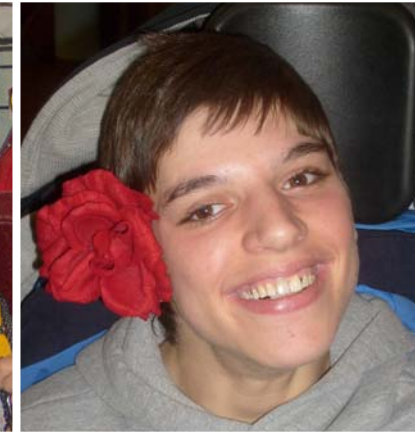

The central philosophy behind Aurora Community Services and all that we do is LIFE. LIFE stands for:

- LEARNING
- INTERACTIVELY
- FINDING
- EMPOWERMENT

Living the LIFE Philosophy means that we believe in building programs and services around the needs of the individuals being served. Our services are individual, dynamic, and fluid and we will adjust our approach as often as necessary to find the "right fit" for the consumer.

"A new beginning"

More than just a Job

There are many opportunities available with Aurora for people that are looking to make a difference in the life of a person with a disability.

Aurora Residential Alternatives employees work in a home in the community and assist persons with disabilities to live their life. As an employee you may assist a consumer with housekeeping, cooking, recreational activities, personal cares, and or medical needs.

Every Aurora consumer is different! Aurora works hard to find matches between employees and consumers so that everyone is working or living in an environment that is best for them.

“Words cannot express how my position as a caregiver, and live-in caregiver has meant to me. Even now, as I write this letter I am honestly holding back tears of joy and sadness as I recall fond memories of the past four and a half years. Aurora has not only made me a more mature individual, but it has made me a selfless person as well. Working for Aurora has taught me the importance of patience, quick and creative thinking, and that sometimes the most challenging tasks can often become the most rewarding.”
